

An animal's breakfast

David ate a lion's breakfast. It made him feel big and strong. Imagine you ate an animal's breakfast and it turned you into an animal for a day! You could turn into an elephant that roams the city or a monkey that swings through the trees. Write a story about your adventures. Answer these questions to help plan your story -

The breakfast I will eat is _____.

This will turn me into a _____ for the day.

During the day I will

Write your story in the space below -

