

Animal Charades

To play this game you need two or more people. On the cards below are some animals from By Jingo! There are also some other animals. Cut them all up and put them into a hat. One person picks a card from the hat. Whatever animal they pick they must act like. The other people try and guess what animal they are. Here comes the tricky part, the person acting isn't allowed to make any noises. The first person to guess correctly picks a new animal out of the hat to act like.
