

Camel Racing

The International Camel Cup began in 1971. It was held on the dry bed of the Todd River in Alice Springs in the Northern Territory. The race raises money for charity and is a popular event each year. There are over fifteen camel races in Australia each year including events at Boulia and Winton in Queensland. Use the table below to have your own camel race. Each player picks a camel and they place a counter on it. Players then take it in turns to roll the die. Which ever Camel's number is rolled that camel moves forward one space. The winner is the first Camel to the finish.
