

Tongue Twisters!

Tammy gave all the ducks names. It can be fun to try and write a sentence where lots of the words start with the same letter. Sometimes when you do this you end up with a tongue twister!

If we used the duck Diddley-Di-Dee-dum we could write the sentence - The duck Diddley-Di-Dee-dum drummed dangerously on her drums.

Make up a name for an animal and write a sentence with as many words as possible starting with the same letter.

The name of my animal is _____

A sentence with my animal's name and lots of other words starting with the same letter -

Now try and read your sentence.

In the space below have a go at writing some more sentences like the one you've already done but using a different name and letter.

On the back of the sheet illustrate your sentence. The sentence - The duck Diddley-Di-Dee-dum drummed dangerously on her drums, could be drawn by having a duck playing drums while balancing on a chair!
